LEADERSHIP EXPERIENCE

Learning Assistant

Chem 1B General Chemistry (with Professor Holton)

- As a learning assistant for Chem 1B General Chemistry during the Spring quarter of 2023, I helped students improve their understanding of the material by facilitating communication with the professor and identifying areas where additional support was needed. It was a fulfilling experience that allowed me to develop leadership and communication skills while making a positive impact on the academic lives of others.

Studies on the Pathology of Alzheimer's' Disease

Group Leader

- Conducted a comprehensive pathology analysis and designed a experiment related to Alzheimer's disease, showcasing a strong interest in critical thinking and an ability to analyze complex data.

Build Personal Blog (kaicao.ink)

- Created and managed a personal blog focused on Biology and Computer Science, actively engaged with the audience to valuable insights and resources and provide supports to those in need."
